WAR PREPARED FOR PEACE

Commander

M'NAUGHTON TO COMMAND FIRST ARMY

Former Chief of General Staff Is Appointed To Lead First Division

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, president of the national research council and former chief of the general staff, will command the first Canadian division of the Canadian active service force, it was announced last night by the national defence department.

Major-General McNaughton, an officer with outstanding military qualifications and long experience, temporarily retired from the active list of the Canadian militia when appointed president of the research council June 1, 1935.

He is to be released from that responsibility and taking up active military service again. He will assume the duties of inspector-general of units, first Canadian division, C.A.S.F., and will assume command of the 1st Canadian division when the unit is assembled, according to the defence department announcement.

As commander of the first division, military sources here said it would be logical to appoint a general.

France Prepares For Long-Term Hostilities

By JOHN MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 7.—France settled herself today for a long war, her announced determination to "carry on to victory" apparently unshaken by Adolf Hitler's "last" offer to end hostilities.

There were indications of a growing conviction that the war was about to enter a new phase, marked by large scale operations and a new threat of a German air offensive.

Military leaders indicated France was prepared for any surprise the Nazis might spring. Latest information from the front said German troops were continuing to harry French outposts in the Saar and Palatinate sectors, apparently in an effort to test the French strength.

German reinforcements were reported moving up steadily behind the French front line. These reinforcements included large numbers of heavy tanks and airplanes. It was said.

A communiqué issued this morning by the French general staff reported reconnoitering patrols were active in the region southwest of Metz during the night. Military sources said German activity had been "more regular" in the last 24 hours. Small forces of Nazi troops were reported operating in the Wiesbaden and Saarbrücken sectors.

GERMAN PILOT TAKEN
A young German pilot who lost his way and landed behind French lines was taken prisoner by his own army.

French and British military commanders met yesterday in a long conference and it was believed they discussed probable German strategy in light of Hitler's Reichstag speech.

Hitler's address was the object of sharp attacks in the French press, which declared the speech had not altered the situation. Some commentators said Hitler had found it necessary to try to justify his political and military position in the eyes of the German people.

As commander of the first division, military sources here said it would be logical to appoint a general.

$100,000 LOSS IN MINE FIRE DRUMHELLER

Spectacular Blaze Destroys Buildings Of Red Deer Valley Collieries

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
DRUMHELLER, Oct. 7.—One hundred thousand dollars worth of mine buildings went up in smoke early Saturday morning in the second spectacular mine fire of the year, when the tipple and bins and ear leaders of the Red Deer Valley Collieries at Narmin were destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The fire was first spotted at the top of the cage, being the highest point of the tipple proper, spreading rapidly along the roof and enveloping the entire structure before the mine fire fighting squad could be called out.

Miners working below ground were ordered to the surface immediately making their exit out of the air shaft but at no time were their lives endangered, fire fighters effectively cutting off the blaze from the shaft. Shortly after six o'clock the Drumheller fire brigade was called to the scene, returning to town two and a half hours later when the blaze had been brought under control.

CHARRED MASS
One of the men who ducked the fire was still burning but was restricted to the charred mass of framework.

One of the biggest producers in the Drumheller valley, the Red Deer Valley Collieries, was working on full winter production. Mine officials were unable to state what caused the fire, and it is possible that the cause will remain a mystery. Three months ago the Marley Colliery tipple at the other end of the valley was razed to the ground.

The mine is owned by Miss E.

Eden States Empire Demands That Rule By Force Must Stop

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Dominions Secretary Anthony Eden said last night in a broadcast address: "There are times when the greatest contribution we can make to peace is to stand firm for those things in which we believe."

Eighteen representatives of many parts of the Empire gave accounts of war efforts being made by their local governments on the same broadcast. The program was entitled "The Empire's Answer."

"We have scanned the earth tonight and have listened to the voices of the great and the small, and we have heard the response of a great Empire to a great cause."

Finland Calling Up Reserve Divisions To Strengthen Neutrality

By LYNN HEINZELING
Associated Press Staff Writer
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 7.—The Finnish defence ministry announced today it had called some reserve divisions to the colors "to strengthen the nation's neutrality" while the cabinet considered a Russian invitation to send an envoy to Moscow to discuss political and economic matters.

Voices of such envoys from Estonia and Latvia have resulted in controversy. One report was that greatly increasing Russian power around the Baltic.

The defence ministry's announcement in Helsinki might be used to build up confidence in Finland as a neutral power. The foreign office in Helsinki said a delegation to Moscow to discuss political and economic matters. One report was that Foreign Minister Elias Ekholm had declined to go but it was possible some other representative might be sent.

Somehow the first in the parade of small Baltic states to Moscow and, like the second, Latvia, agreed to a pact which gave Russia the right to establish military bases on her soil.

Activity in both nations to implement the accords was looked for next week.

The view taken in diplomatic quarters was that Russia was now seeking opportunity to dominate the Baltic area, that Turkey was retreating slowly.

Russia's demand that Turkey close the Dardanelles was taken here to mean that Russia sought to control the Black Sea and the possibility that the might find benefit aligned against Turkey. It is said Russia decided to throw Russia into the war.

Russia's second demand was interpreted as meaning that Russia desired to dismember herself in the Balkans. The Black Sea side and concentrate her interests in the eastern Mediterranean.

On Sept. 26, 1938, in a speech at the Berlin Sportplatz he stated the Russian position. "We cannot let the last position that must and shall be solved. This is the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe." Of Czechoslovakia, he said: "I will give the Czechs the guarantee we do not want any Czechs."

On Sept. 17, 1938, at the Nuremberg party congress: "When in Poland a great steamship and pilot was ready to conclude a pact with us, we immediately rejected the treaty because there were no regular conditions of the Reich. The Reich's policy on that date. Full coverage of the week-end and Monday's news will be given in our full Sunday paper on Saturday.

Militia Forces Increased Over Air And Navy

By The Canadian Press
Sixty thousand recruits were being welded into Canada's military machine today, as thousands of miles away, the second Great War continued to cast its shadows and lights over the life of the Dominion.

An official source at Ottawa said 60,000, not counting those for the Royal Canadian Air Force and Navy, have joined with the permanent militia of about 7,000 since the Nazis invaded Poland.

At the same time, apart from the effect on local economy caused by the widespread enlistment, recruits from all walks of life and modifications in the social and economic conditions of the nation are well advanced toward knitting.

YANKS LEAD REDS 7 TO 3 IN THIRD GAME

Four Homers Net the New Yorkers All Their Runs In Weird Game

Yanks 202 85
Reds 73 100
Batteries: Gomez, Hadley and Dickey; Thompson, Grimmon and Leonard.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—New York Yankees' famed powerhouse came to life with a bang here today in the third game of the world series as they blasted young Junior Thompson from the mound in the 10th inning for a 7-3 lead. The Yanks made four hits, all of them homers, accounting for the seven runs. Charlie Keller hit a pair and Bill Dickey and Joe Mauer got the others.

Lefty Gomez, started on the mound for the Yankees, was relieved by Bump Hadley after pitching only two innings. Hadley's effort was apparently better than his.

FIRST INNING
YANKS—Cronin walked on first strike. Thompson threw the ball three times to pick Cronin off first. McCormick reached in two outs, struck by a throw from back the Yanks third baseman to the bag for a putout, succeeded, Givens.

Hamel Quits As Leader Of Quebec National Party

QUEBEC, Oct. 7.—Dr. Philippe Hamel, leader of Quebec's National party, announced today that he had resigned from politics.

Dr. Hamel's announcement came a little less than three weeks before Quebec province will hold a general election. The resignation was announced in 1938 as a result of the legislature in 1938 as a result of the National party's defeat in the 1938 election.

With a small number of followers he withdrew from the government party in February, 1937, to form the National party following a dispute on matters of policy. He is 54 and one of the leading disorganizers in Quebec.

PAPERS COLD ON FUEHRER'S PEACE OFFER

British Editors Believe No Basis For Peace Seen In Hitler Speech

By PAT UNSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Oct. 7.—Hitler's vaguely-phrased peace offer was accorded a cold reception in the editorial columns of Great Britain's morning newspapers.

The Edinburgh Scotsman (Conservative) struck the keynote with the first assertion: "There is no basis for peace here."

It added: "It is a plan for riveting upon Poland the fetters of German domination and for extracting from Britain under the threat of renewed war whatever colonial possessions Germany believed to be appropriate to her status as a great power."

EXPLAINS FIRST NEED
The Daily Herald (Labor) said if Hitler withdrew his troops from Poland and agreed that the restoration of Poland and Czechoslovakia should be placed first on the agenda of any peace conference, "there might be the possibility of a genuine conference in which not only Great Britain but also France and the great neutral powers could be invited to participate."

The Daily Mirror (Independent) said: "We must not mumble illegible answers to Hitler. We are ready for a lasting peace with any man or party in Germany that can be trusted."

The News Chronicle (Liberal) urged the British government "to state in clear terms the essential conditions we consider necessary to enable the people of the world to live in justice and security and the contribution all must make to this end."

"SICKENING HYPOCRISY"
The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) termed Hitler's peace offer "a sickening hypocrisy," asserting "if the world is to lay down its arms it is the assassins who must begin."

The proposals would provide the basis for negotiation with a German government which Hitler trusted, the Daily Mail (Independent) said, but withdrawal of German troops from Poland was essential to even a truce. The proposals could not be negotiated, it added, with Hitler and his associates.

Pointing to Hitler's promises not to coerce Austria, not to invade Czechoslovakia and to keep its pact with Poland, the Manchester Guardian (Liberal) remarked: "It is doubtful whether his promises of his threats are any more to be feared."

HITLER "MEGALOMANIAC"
The Yorkshire Post (Independent), commonly regarded as reflecting the views of Anthony Eden, Dominion secretary, termed Hitler a "megalo-maniac" who is becoming increasingly a prisoner of his own reckless and immoral policies. He added: "Until this armed camp and its ruler is overthrown there can be no peace or freedom for Europe."

The Times (Independent) said British statesmen "are concerned not with Hitler's terms, but with Hitler himself and Hitler's record."

"It is just because Hitler and Hitlerism—the employment of force and fraud without end in international relations—are an insuperable bar to the negotiation of a true peace that they are now determined not to rest until the way of progress by conciliation, justice and good faith has finally been cleared."

Call Speech "Barrack-Room Statesmanship"

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The New York Herald-Tribune (Republican) today said Adolf Hitler's speech was "barrack-room statesmanship" and asserted it was "incredible that any trace should be credited on this foundation."

The New York Times (Independent) spoke of the speech as an "in-effective argument for peace" and characterized it as "a tedious long and insufferably smug glorification of the force of German arms with a blunt notice to Britain and France that Poland, in whose behalf they have gone to war, has now become the 'exclusive' concern of Germany and Russia."

"NOT EVEN CLEVER"
The Herald-Tribune argued the Fuehrer "has rendered all solutions impossible except those of force to the man who has sentenced a continent to the judgments of an utterly barbaric bloodshed."

The New York Times said Hitler's desire for peace was "undoubtedly sincere, but added: 'Why should he want peace in Poland? Why risk losing it?'

"The Reichstag speech was not even a clever speech," the paper wrote. "It was not shrewdly baited, it offered no temptation for the British and French people to abandon the effort on which they have embarked. It suggested no way in which their present policy could be saved if peace were made at once."

SEEMS DOMINATION
Cleveland Plain Dealer (Independent Democrat)—Adolf Hitler's latest offer of peace is interlarded with promises there is no reason to think he intends to keep. Peace, as defined by the Fuehrer, would be another instrument to gain European domination for Germany.

Providence Journal (Independent)—Hitler has cast Mussolini in the peace role. That the Italian head of state would not accept the argument is of the utmost significance. Mussolini, with his desire for peace and his anxiety over his relations with Germany, reached

Eden Speaks
The Empire's answer, Mr. Eden said, is the rule of violence must cease and all nations must be able to exist without threat to their peace and security.

"To achieve this," he promised, "we of the British Empire are prepared to devote the whole of our strength."

"Sacrifices will be demanded of us. We are resolved in colonies and territories to make them. Dark days may lie ahead, but with this inspiring answer still ringing in our ears from millions who think and feel with us and fight by our side, we can have no doubt of the ultimate triumph."

RESOURCES GATHERING
The Empire's resources are already being swiftly gathered for a powerful fight, the Dominions Secretary declared.

"No hatred, no fan for domination moves us," he declared. "But there are issues wider than the boundaries of empire. There are moments in history when the very spirit of man is at stake. This is such a moment; to a cringing slap is his honor."

The Empire is not fighting to preserve the old world, but to build a new one, he said. "The way is being fought to 'free our children from haunting dread' and so that 'moral and spiritual values shall prevail.'"

"Twenty years ago we thought we had won such a victory," he said. "This time, God willing, we shall not fail."

Czech Government
In Exile Rumored

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Former President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia arrived in Paris from London last night and was expected to confer with officials of both the French and Polish governments on what diplomatic circles reported would be an effort to establish a Czechoslovak government in exile similar to that of Poland.

The conclusion that Hitler's policies are not even worth offering his enemies.

Denver Post (Independent)—A bandit, having robbed a bank and murdered the cashier, is cornered by police. He proposes that, since the robbery has been completed he be allowed to go unpunished and carry away his loot. That is Hitler's idea of the peace."

Baltimore Evening Sun (Independent Democrat)—Hitler's plea for peace is a series of lies of iron as we have ever read. For what he was to take the war aims of the Allies, with certain notable exceptions, and hand them back as his.

Australian Press
Sees No Change

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 7.—The Morning Herald (Conservative) said today Adolf Hitler had made a "bold statement of his determination of the allies to end Nazism and terrorism."

The paper said the "peace proposals" should have been made before Hitler attacked Poland. Now it was too late.

"If he is sincere he should evacuate Poland," the paper said. "Otherwise the proposal would appear to be no more than a device of a bandit seeking a means of retreat with the booty while protesting that society should bestow a reward on a petty on him lest he be tempted to commit further acts of brigandage."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) described the speech as that of a cowardly and hysterical bandit, wheedling for peace in an effort to save himself from dis-

CANADA MINES TO AID ALLIES IN EUROPE WAR

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—Canadian mines should prove a powerful aid to the Allies in the war. Across the Dominion the gold, copper, nickel, lead and zinc mines are being stepped up to peak production mining officials here said.

When this country entered the first Great War in 1914 it was producing gold at the rate of 8,631 fine ounces a month and now it is producing more than 418,000 ounces a month.

Canadian mines are producing almost eight times as much copper now as in 1914. The average monthly production in 1914 was 6,812,300 pounds, and for the first seven months of the present year the average has been 49,241,705.

Nickel production has increased fivefold. The monthly average in 1914 was 3,789,181 and this year 18,568,109 pounds.

Lead production is more than 10 times greater. The 1914 monthly average was 3,024,177 pounds and this year 31,106,609.

Silver production is lower than in 1914. The average monthly production in that year was 2,700,000 ounces and this year 1,900,304.

Welsh Gunner Makes Dramatic Escape From Bullet-Riddled Plane

LONDON, Oct. 7.—An eye-witness writing from "somewhere in France" Friday told a dramatic story of how a Welsh air gunner escaped from a bullet-riddled air plane, his crashing alive, after bringing down an enemy machine.

The account, released by the ministry of information, told how the gunner took his parachute over Germany and was seized at by the Germans as he floated down to a landing between the lines.

Both German and French airplanes solitary round towards him, but the French got there first and carried him to safety.

TOLD STORY FROM RED
The gunner told his story from a bed in a medical receiving station.

The Germans lost four machines when a British squadron, making a reconnaissance flight over the Westwall, was attacked by three formations of six each of German Messerschmitts. The R.A.F. planes were outnumbered by more than three to one.

The Welsh gunner was quoted as saying a German plane "attached itself to my machine" and "a terrific duel" ensued.

"I looked round and saw the other plane," he said. "It was a 'Me 109'. He had been shot and the head."

The gunner said his plane started to catch fire and "just as my clothing began to smoulder" he shot down a German plane which offered a "lovely target."

"If I hadn't been on fire I could have easily shot down two more," he said.

"TALE GOT TRUE"
Besides the tale he told, the gunner said, "my pals accounted for three."

The gunner dauntly pulled the string of his parachute in struggling from the cockpit and was pulled out of the plane. He landed after hitting the tail of the plane, then recovered to hear bullets whistling about him.

"I was above the German lines and they were shooting at me," he said.

He landed unhurt in no man's land and saw the Germans leave their trenches and come towards him, the gunner related. Then French airplanes appeared from the other side and began to fire at the Germans.

"One man (an Algerian) came running straight towards me as hard as he could go. He picked me up, threw me over his shoulder and staggered with me into the woods. I was safe but it was a near thing."

So common are twin births but coming that insurance rates against such an event have risen considerably.

LAYTON TELLS WHY HE LEFT CABINET POST

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Hon. Gilbert Layton, minister without portfolio in the Union Nationale cabinet, said last night his resignation from the government was motivated solely by the failure of Premier Duplessis to "remove the stigma that has been attached to the name of this province as the only one that has failed to offer co-operation to the federal government in the prosecution of the war."

"This and this alone," Layton said, "all institutions and millions whispering campaigns to the contrary, was my reason for no longer being able to remain a member of it to support the Union Nationale government."

Layton resigned Thursday, less than 24 hours after the premier inaugurated his campaign at three o'clock on the issue of co-operation, Canada's war participation and provincial autonomy. The member for Montreal-St. George said the premier's speech left him no alternative but to resign.

Premier Duplessis said at Quebec Friday, shortly before the cabinet accepted Layton's resignation, that the motives the minister gave "must necessarily be added to the reasons he knows and which leave him no other choice."

Eire Plans to Keep Peace At Home, Remain Neutral, Avoid Effects of War

By JOSEPH DENIGAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—Eire is taking precautions to preserve her neutrality, avoid effects of the war in Europe and maintain internal peace.

The army, reserve and volunteer forces have been mobilized to watch the coast and to guard all strategic points throughout the state. Plans are being pushed to recruit a special police force to give temporary assistance to the normal force.

GUARD COAST CLOSELY
While the coast will be guarded as closely as possible it is not believed possible that Eire will be involved in present repetition of the war. A recent German submarine landed the crew of the Greek freighter Diamantis at Dunbeg, County Kerry.

Parliament has granted drastic emergency powers to the De Valera government and has approved the neutrality policy. The Fine Gael and the Labor party have abandoned all political activity in order to avoid embarrassing the government.

Men entering or leaving Eire now require either passports or permits.

FREEDOM TO MOVE
There is freedom of movement between Northern Ireland and Eire.

WHAT'S THE GOOD WORK FOR '40?

"Best Yet's Buick!"

General Motors Proudly Present the Greatest Car ever to Grace the name—McLAUGHLIN-BUICK

YOU SEE pictured here the magnificent automobile that value-wise is next year's No. 1 car.

We who dreamed it, built it, tested it, tell you it is McLaughlin-Buick at its unbeatable best.

Every one of its 12,000 parts is, in finish and function, a better part than we've been able to make before.

Every one of its 44 different types of steel is the finest for its job that money can buy—five of its special alloys were not even in existence 10 years ago.

When this uncatchable smoothie went through its paces on the General Motors proving ground, a ripple of wonder ran like quicksilver through the men who watched its going.

A similar wonder rode with the hardboiled inspectors who hounded it over all the thousands of merciless road-test miles we gave it before we told the production lines: ok, let 'er roll.

You'll feel it—you'll marvel, too—when you feel this incredibly active, staunch, exciting mechanism come alive under your hands—this car that brings to flower the best that McLaughlin-Buick knows.

From the velvet velocity of its straight-eight Dynaflex engine to the superb way it handles and answers controls, it's full of new-day features.

Go see this beauty. Drive this dream-true! All fire and sparkling spirit it's a glory of gallantry-and-obedience on wheels.

Easy to own, too, for this stunning new McLaughlin-Buick is priced lower than you'd think possible. It's a honey for the money!

'Invisible War' Being Waged In NORTH SEA May Decide The Future Of Europe

By The A.P. Feature Service
IN a long-range war, the Allies may win by their ability to blockade German ports and sweep German shipping off the seas. So events in the area shown are vital to the course of the war.

Most of them are un spectacular—ceaseless patrolling by Britain to see that no German vessel enters or leaves the North Sea, and by Germany to see that no British warships slip into the Baltic; the tending of mine fields; the sinking or capture of supply-laden freighters.

In fact, the war here is almost invisible. A naval engagement may break out only once in a while, but Germany isn't strong enough to risk another Battle of Jutland.

The first effort of both sides is to protect their coastlines from attack. For this they use their naval and air bases, patrols by submarines and destroyers, and mine fields through which only the nation laying the mines knows the channels. War planes are stationed at each naval base.

Besides protecting the coast, guarding friendly shipping and blockading the enemy, patrols hamper the other side's mine laying and sweeping activities.

Mine areas are the most treacherous of all zones in war times. They are used both for protection of strategic areas and to obstruct the enemy in his own zone. They must be constantly tended, and they will be swept up by opposing naval units.

Since British strategic defenses lock up German shipping, Germany's chief weapon in this war at sea is the submarine blockade shown here, and another in the Atlantic. Her Russian treaty and her conquest of Poland give her a backdoor entrance for supplies, but how effective that will be is uncertain.

Nazi Boss

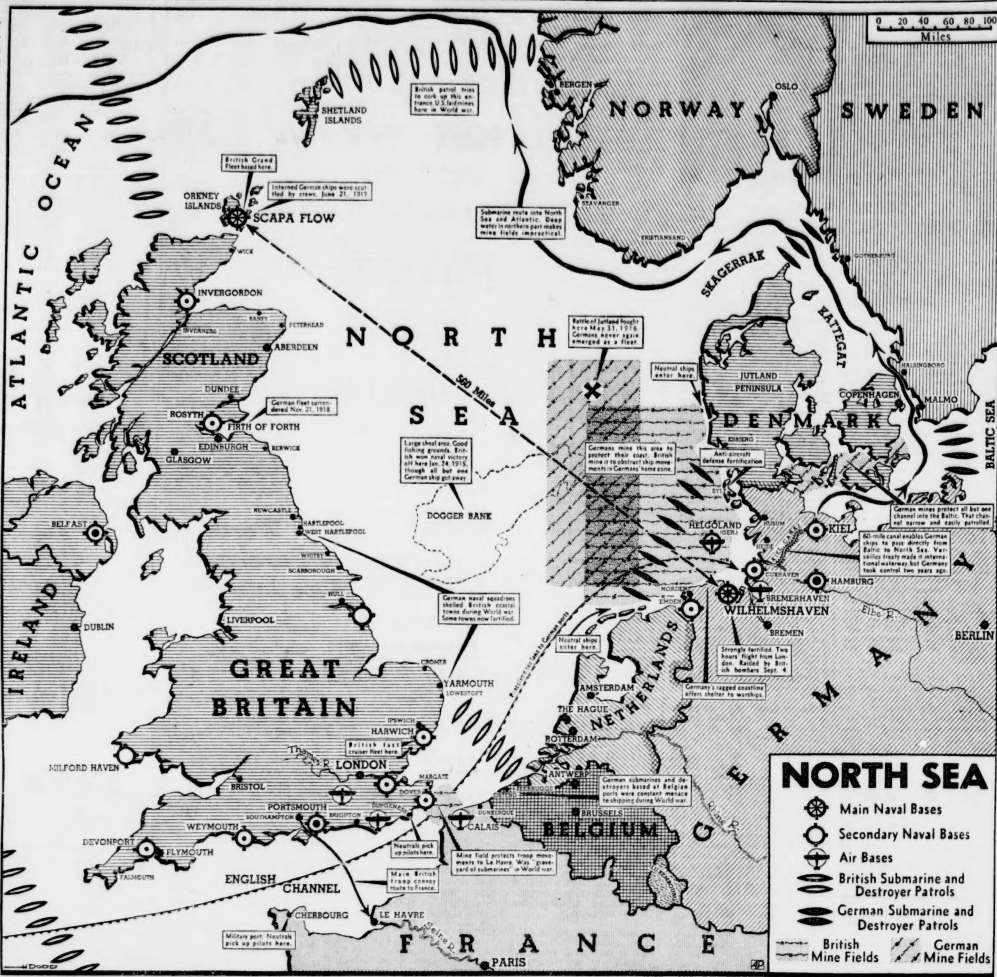

How Frank's special administration, took over administration of the entire territory taken by Germany in Poland, something less than one-half of the pre-Nazi Polish territory. The balance went to Russia. Frank's task is settlement of Germans in occupied territory, making it "economically German."

No Umbrella

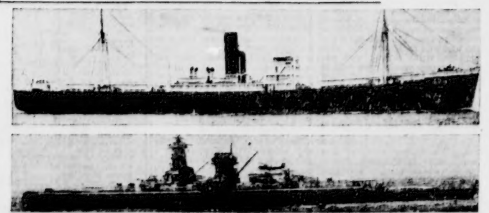

It seems here strolling in London without his famous and, until recently, inevitable umbrella. That necessary has been replaced by the gas mask which the Prime Minister carries over his shoulder.

Predicted Wonder Weapons of War Fail to Appear

Great 14-inch guns like this one shown firing during U.S. army maneuvers in Aberdeen, Md. blast away behind French and German lines on the western front. They differ little from the giant siege guns of 1914-18.

The 5,000-ton British freighter Clement, top, is believed to be the first victim of the Nazi 10,000-ton pocket battleship Admiral Scheer, bottom, which is reported to be roaming the southern Atlantic sea lanes as a raider. The British cruisers York, Berwick and Exeter, of the British West Indies squadron, have been ordered to hunt the Admiral Scheer and either sink or capture it. The German raider, armed with 11-inch guns, has an armed superiority over the three British cruisers equipped to hunt it down. The York, Berwick and Exeter mount eight-inch guns.

Edmonton Bulletin Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—During the 21 years since Versailles, countless rumors have circulated about wonder weapons which were being developed in the military laboratories of the world.

These modern wonder weapons included such old favorites of the comic strip as the robot bomber and the death ray which, reports slated, had finally been perfected and now are ready to annihilate soldier and civilian alike.

And now comes Reichsfuehrer Hitler to hint in his Danzig speech that he may use a new and terrible weapon if the war continues.

Yet, today, as the French and English slowly move forward into German territory under the clearing bombardment of their own artillery, it is murderous machine gun fire, concrete pill-boxes containing anti-tank guns, tank traps and regulation big guns—not death rays and bombs of deadly beauty—that bar their way.

BETTER WEAPONS BUT MUCH THE SAME
FOR actually extremely few new weapons have been developed since 1918. Improvements have been virtually the only change. The field guns used by the French in their current battle of the Saar are still, for example, the 75 and 105 millimeter guns used 21 years ago.

All that has happened is that these ranges are longer, their fire-control instruments more accurate, their lateral angles of fire wider, the explosions slightly bigger, and their speed over roads in good weather greater.

The new German howitzers have many advantages over similar guns used in the last war, but the advance made has not been sufficient to overcome France's 155 millimeter gun which—the one recently developed by the U.S. army at Fort Bliss, N.C.—hurls a 160-pound shell close to 35 miles.

Contrasted to the cumbersome 155 millimeter gun used in the last World War, the present gun, weighing 30,565 pounds, is mounted on a 10-wheel pneumatic-tired carriage which makes possible a hauling speed of 15 miles an hour.

THE MILLER MACHINE GUN
BUT the one weapon which in 1914 was king of the battlefield and which still lives up to its title today, is the machine gun. Yet the only essential difference is that it is slightly more accurate, fires a heavier projectile a greater distance, and is more widely used.

The big 8, 12 and 14-inch guns which dot the terrain behind the western front forts are virtually unchanged from the 1914 models. Yet they are little different from the siege guns which battered the trenches in the last war.

Three companies are now planning to manufacture airplanes using Duralumin (wood fibre) and synthetic resins combined by heat and pressure.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Sunday, October 8th to Saturday, October 14th

Chicago Holocaust Is Commemorated In Fire Prevention

On October 9, 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's cow—according to the legend—kicked over a lantern and the fire that followed destroyed the city of Chicago, cost more than 200 human lives, and, what is far more important, brought to the public mind the urgent need of fire prevention apparatus and information.

Today that great and terrible conflagration is still commemorated with the observance in both Canada and United States of Fire Prevention Week—October 8 to 14—when every possible effort is made to bring home to people the fire dangers that threaten their homes and businesses, and, as a result, jobs and lives and puts a tax upon everyone.

Fortunately this great waste and danger is preventable, for with reasonable care and forethought, fires can be prevented entirely or put out with little damage, provided all fire hazards are either removed or carefully watched and controlled.

EDMONTON'S LOSSES

Fires which got out of control in Canada in 1938 destroyed property valued at $1,456,130—representing the toll taken by 1,471 fires. During the same year losses in Edmonton alone amounted to $400,756. The fire department answered 704 calls. Far more serious—fires took three lives.

Of the 704 calls answered by the Edmonton fire department 110 were false. These false alarms cost the city thousands of dollars—for it costs money to run the fire engines through the streets.

And although the misdirected jokers who put in the alarms may have thought it was funny they apparently didn't consider that they were risking not only the firemen's lives—but the lives of others. For it is dangerous to race the fire engines through city streets and the risk is only excusable when there is a fire.

Of the 588 actual fires 236 were in dwelling houses—and this means that they resulted in almost every case from somebody's carelessness or neglect and could have been prevented. The chief causes were defective chimneys and flues, defective electric wiring, careless use of matches and smoking materials, misuse of inflammable liquids, sparks on wooden shingle roofs, improperly designed and constructed stoves and furnaces, and the careless disposal of ashes and rubbish.

The annual inspection of city homes by uniformed firemen as a preventative service was started in Edmonton in 1937 under the direction of Fire Marshal Jack Booth. In that year 12,423 city homes were inspected for fire hazards. The most common ones found by the firemen and pointed out to householders were: paper and rubbish stored in wooden barrels, storage of waste under staircases, smoke pipes too near woodwork, old paint cans allowed to accumulate, defective heating equipment and wiring, ashes in basement, accumulation of papers, clothes and old furniture in attics and defective chimneys.

A similar campaign is planned for this year, beginning with Fire Prevention Week, and an effort will be made to have uniformed firemen inspect every home. Citizens are requested to co-operate with the firemen in this effort to prevent fires. For prevention means fewer fires, fewer fires mean smaller losses, and smaller losses mean lower insurance rates and savings for everyone.

Suggestions Here Will Make House Safe From Fires

These simple suggestions, if followed by everyone in the family, will make your home safe from fire.

Put lighted matches and smokes in a safe place. Never smoke in the garage, barn, or attic, nor in the kitchen.

Remove rubbish, waste paper and all unnecessary combustible materials. Provide metal ash and trash cans. Burn rubbish only in a safety covered brick or metal incinerator. Watch the fire.

Examine all stoves, furnaces, and smoke-pipes to make sure they are safe and well away from woodwork or other burnable materials. Have needed repairs made at once.

Value the advice of your fire chief who says that many fires are caused by dirty or defective chimneys. Have the chimney cleaned regularly, and have all defects repaired.

KEEP NO GASOLINE
Escape the danger of flammable liquid fires and explosions by keeping no gasoline in the house. Do not store gasoline in the garage or send the work to the cleaner. Never start fires with kerosene.

Have the electric light department of electrical work and the gas company of gas leaks. Repairs "blow" fuses with new ones—not pennies. Add home-made wiring jobs. Don't look for gas leaks with a match. Teach everyone in the family to be careful of fire, to watch stoves, fireplaces, electric lights and all other possible fire causes, and every day to remove old rags, papers and other rubbish.

Fireproof your house as far as possible by fireproofing fireproofing in hollow walls and fireproofing to stop the spread of flame, and a non-combustible basement ceiling.

ASK FIRE CHIEF
Inquire of your fire chief, when buying a fire extinguisher, to be sure of getting the right kind. Don't hesitate to ask your firemen whenever you have questions on fire prevention.

Remember always where the nearest fire alarm box is and how to send an alarm. If telephoning, be sure the address is clearly understood. Use a neighbor's phone rather than one in the burning building.

Explain to everyone in the house what to do in case of fire, how to get out in clothing by wrapping in a rug or blanket, what to do when grease catches fire in the stove.

Save life and property from needless destruction by fire by keeping the principles of fire prevention always in mind and never taking a chance with fire.

80 PER CENT. FIRES FOUND PREVENTABLE

Simple Causes Show How Easily Blazes Can Start At Any Time

A careful study of fire records shows that at least 80 per cent of fires are preventable. The following examples are given from among the thousands of known causes to show how easily fires can start and the fatal results that may follow.

A man dropped a cigarette in a rubbish pile in a rooming house and burned to death eleven people. A man dropped his cigarette in a couch in the lobby of a hotel. Fire resulted at a man, and resulted in the death of four people.

COAL OIL DANGEROUS
A mother in one of our leading cities, for the five hundredth time, started a fire with coal oil. The fire started burned to death three children besides herself.

A man dropped a match on a garage floor, walked on and left it. A six-year-old child found it and ignited her clothing which resulted in burns that caused her death a few hours later.

A man attempted to sleep and smoke at the same time—result, he set his bed on fire, was overcome with smoke, and removed in an unconscious state. Only the timely arrival of the fire department saved him from being cremated alive.

LEAVE MATCHES
Some grown-up placed strike-anywhere matches on a kitchen table. Two small children strayed upon the implied suggestion and carried some to their playhouse. Instantly started a fire. Result, little boy burned fatally.

Do you always think about the safety and welfare of those about you when you discard your match and cigarette stub? Are you mindful of the safety of the children in your home to the extent of providing safety matches, and keeping them out of their reach? Do you have proper respect for the dangerous properties of gasoline and always handle it with care?

PARENTS OFTEN TO BLAME WHEN KIDDIES BURNED

Last year the fire department numbered among its victims in Canada 209 men, women and children. In 1937, 100 children lost their lives by fire; while in 1938, 118 children's lives were claimed.

This is a staggering admission and the responsibility for such tragedies can in many cases be laid directly to the negligence of parents who too often leave their helpless little ones alone in the house while they visit neighbors or go to a show.

These holocausts frequently occur in rural districts where neighbors are long distances away and the parents are unable to reach their burning home in time to save their children from a horrible death.

Every parent should realize that it is his duty to teach his children the principles of fire prevention. They should not be allowed to play with fire, matches should be kept out of their reach, and the playing with celluloid toys should be discouraged.

By a strict adherence to the use of common sense, parents can thus save themselves the bitter anguish and life-long regret which must be ever present when a child perishes by their neglect.

Nash, which broke many sales records during the 1939 model year when public acceptance for its cars increased rapidly, will make a drive in the low-price market this year with an extra large and high powered car. Nash's low-priced automobile, the De Luxe Lafayette, has 117-horsepower, a 69-horsepower motor, and offers a number of driving and construction features generally found only on much higher priced cars.

This low-priced series is made up of six models, as are the other two series being introduced by the company—the twin-twin, valve-in-head Ambassador Eight, and the Ambassador Sixteen. These will be sold in the medium-priced field, and, like the low-priced cars, will be among the biggest automobiles in their price class. The eight have 125-inch wheelbase, and motors with 125 horsepower. The six cylinder cars have 121-inch wheelbase and 105 horsepower.

Many new features and numerous improvements are to be seen on the new cars. An "Arrow Flight Ride" is one of the big features which Nash will stress along with the standard six cylinder model, and which for 1940 has been advanced considerably.

Nova Scotia Gives Answer To Hitler In Food Measures
HALIFAX, Oct. 7.—Nova Scotia Friday gave what Deputy Provincial Secretary A. S. Barnard described as "our answer to Hitler."

An extraordinary edition of the Royal Gazette has been published, providing a means of "meditation and preparation" aimed at acceleration of food production.

The proclamation says it is desirable "that we in Nova Scotia should give our people a practical assistance for the needs of the Empire at the present time, but also that we should encourage the idea of a permanently increased agricultural production."

Chargers of Nova Scotia have been required to "set forth from their pulp on Oct. 15 the facts of the food situation as it affects the island cause."

PREVENTION OF FIRES SHOULD BEGIN IN HOME

Precautions To Be Taken In Dwellings Are Outlined

The best place for fire prevention to start is in the home. Charity should start there according to the ancient saying, and certainly safety should come first.

In order to safeguard the home, inspection should be made not only of the house but of the surrounding area. All heating and lighting equipment, electrical, chimney and pipes kept clean of soot. No smoke pipes permitted through combustible walls; disposal of ashes safeguarded.

The fuse cabinet should be of metal or asbestos lined. Fuses in all fuse blocks, none of them bridged, and not over 15 amperes fuses used in branch circuits. All drop cords should be insulated, and not supported on any conductive material. Electric runs always detached when not in use and kept in metal sheath.

Matches should be kept out of the reach of children and the children should be regularly taught the danger of fire and not to play with matches. The safest type of match to use is the "Safety Match" which may be lighted only on the box.

Closets should be kept clean and all rubbish removed from the entire premises. Cleanliness is next to Godliness. Perhaps that is the reason it always plays such an important part in fire prevention.

This year again special emphasis is being placed on the inspection of dwellings during Fire Prevention Week and you may expect a visit from your local fireman. Are you ready for them?

FREE SHOW AT CAPITOL OPENS FIRE CAMPAIGN

As part of their Fire Prevention campaign this year Fire Prevention Week October 8 to 14, will officially open by Mayor John W. Fry at a ceremony in the Capitol Theatre beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 8 immediately preceding the showing of a special fire prevention film.

The Capitol theatre has donated the use of the theatre for the occasion and the fire department have arranged for a special showing of moving pictures taken of fires in Edmonton during 1938 and 1939. They include many spectacular shots.

Included on the showing will be pictures in color of the visit of the King and Queen to Calgary, Banff, Jasper and Edmonton. Children must be accompanied by parents. There will be no admission charge or collection and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Back from Britain

Recently arrived back in Edmonton from a visit to the British Isles, Miss K. M. Candy, 9738 107th street, was very much impressed by the British determination to "get on with the war." She told of plans that the people of the old land had made against aerial attack and stated that the "blackouts" were highly successful. She was accompanied by Marion Story, also of Edmonton, who is now visiting friends at North Bay, Ont.

With The Railroaders

On the National System

Maintenance of way employees made a presentation to John Maloney, Edmonton local, at their monthly meeting. Ordinary business of the union was suspended to do honor to one of their most loyal and respected brothers. President James Phillips, in presenting Mr. Maloney with a check from the lodge, a custom carried out since the death of his son, the mile post 65 in their lives of railroading, paid a glowing tribute to the sterling character of one whom he had associated with for 20 years, 18 years of which Maloney held office as a conductor of the local, Mr. Van Pike, foreman in the city yards, paid similar compliments.

In the colder years employees of the track department presented Mr. Maloney with a travelling bag and a wallet. A Richardson, in making presentation, paid a tribute to his simple life, his love of education and his pride in Canadian citizenship. Mr. T. Gallagher spoke very highly of his honesty and devotion to duty.

Others who spoke were Mr. M. Jones, Mr. J. Johnson and Mr. T. Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Maloney will leave shortly for an extended visit with their daughter in Los Angeles and on their return will continue to reside in Edmonton.

Engineer and Mrs. G. Fenby returned this week from Brooks, Alberta, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Fenby's mother.

BACK FROM SICK LEAVE

Fireman T. Pantre is a patient in the Royal Alexander hospital and expects to return to his home this week.

Ken Anderson returned to work on the reformation gang after a few days sick leave.

Call-boy Harry Lane has been transferred to Vermilion to work for a short time watching.

Ennis Morris, daughter of R. Morris, Jasper school, returned to her home this week after a short visit with friends in Edmonton.

N.A.R. News

Watchman W. Thompson returned to duty at Dunvegan yards this week.

Locomotive Fireman C. Courie is receiving congratulations this week on the birth of a son to Mrs. Courie.

D. G. MacDonald, machinist at Dunvegan yards, accompanied by Mrs. MacDonald, left this week for a holiday at the Pacific Coast.

C.P.R. Rail News

H. G. Comrie, C.P.R. boiler inspector, was in Edmonton on official business during the early part of the week.

A. Lafan, inspector for the board of transport Commissioners, Calgary, was a business visitor in the city recently.

THREE EDMONTON PROSPECTORS AT PACIFIC COAST

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7.—Three Edmonton prospectors, J. Wallace, Dan McKinnon and W. Irwin, returned to civilization after more than a year spent digging for gold on a placer operation in Canada's northland with the assurance that "we won't starve this winter."

The prospectors also paid a visit to an old river bed near the Alouette River. They reported they had found it not too far from the mouth of the river.

They left Edmonton 18 months ago, travelled to Fort McMurray by snow and from there proceeded along the Stave and Mackenzie

Rail Equipment Contracts Will Be Let Next Week

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—Negotiations between railway companies and equipment manufacturers for new railway equipment are making satisfactory progress, it was learned last night and contracts will probably be let next week. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways are buying $25,000,000 worth of rolling stock, including 40 locomotives, 4,000 box cars, 700 flat cars and some refrigerator cars.

The U.S. entered their return trip in the canoe but found it not seaworthy enough and went ashore at Point Barrow, Alaska, where they were picked up by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police ship, St. Roch.

Consul Is Forced Leave Furniture Behind In Reich

REGINA, Oct. 7.—Robert W. Houtgarner, United States Consul, arrived Friday from Frankfurt, Germany, to take up his new duties in Regina. All his furniture, gathered during 34 years in the American consular service in Europe and owned in Germany, he said:

"There are no ships leaving Germany now, he said, and I would not be surprised if I did not get my furniture until after the war," he said.

A young crew requires about 10 ounces of food daily.

Setting Precedent

ROCKVILLE, Oct. 7.—When mail cars between here and Smiths Falls are withdrawn mail will be carried in a truck and for the first time in Canada, a railway mail clerk will ride on the truck to his station.

Our Old Country Letter — By J. E. Norcross

LONDON, Eng. — (By Mail)

Fifty-odd years ago two names are prominent in the history of the world, Henry Irving and J. L. Toole. Irving is now remembered, but Toole is now forgotten. Toole, however, in those days was a comedy writer and was to be found in the theatre. The comedian was a great practical joker of whom many stories were told. Present-day circumstances have brought one of his little plays to the mind of the reader. It is a play where milk was sold, the actor said, very solemnly, "Two boys and a girl, please."

The dairymaid was plainly puzzled.

"Two boys and a girl," repeated Toole, "two boys about 11, if possible, and a girl two years younger."

"I don't understand you," gasped the man, whereupon Toole asked him by the arm, rubbed him outside, and pointed to a signboard over the premises reading, "Families Supplied."

Well, the government has been supplying a good many people with families lately, as far as possible of the sort and size they have requested.

Early in the year Great Britain, like ancient Gaul, was divided into three parts, evacuation areas, reception areas and neutral areas. Women and children, it was decided, would be moved from the first to the second, and would be billeted on the inhabitants.

We live in a reception area, a fact of which we become aware when ladies called and counted the number of rooms in our house and found that they were not enough for the number of people living in the house. They told us we could have two guests.

Being so long young, we felt that we could not undertake the care of two ladies, so we were looked for by a woman and child, a child under five, as each child had to be accompanied by their mothers.

It was not compulsory, we were told, but we felt that people ought not to refuse and, satisfied that we had done our duty nobly, we forgot all about it. We did not seem at all probable at that time.

Then came the intensification of the crisis and talk in the newspapers of evacuation being imminent. We began to wonder what sort of mother and child we should have to take in. Finally evacuation was ordered and the crisis within our own doors became acute. Inquiries as to where those destined for our reception area would come from yielded the unpleasant information that we had been asked to take the evacuees from a district which included some of the worst of the city slums that have not yet been cleared away.

Whom should we get, we asked ourselves in dismay, as we saw teachers and voluntary workers leading little processions of children along our street. Pathetic groans, each youngster carrying his bag, and a small household containing his changes of clothing. Women, thinking what it must have meant to the faraway mothers to part with their children, gave way to tears.

The children themselves, for the most part, were bright enough. It was a great adventure for them. Little clumps of 11 shepherd boys, younger brothers and sisters and, obeying injunctions received at home, refused to be parted from them. Quite evidently each had been taken to turn them out at dawn and neat as possible, and they were gladly taken in at about four o'clock, mothered and made as happy and comfortable as their new "aunties" could contrive.

But our own personal problem remained to be solved. The women with small children were not to come until the next day, so we were left with wondering what sort of evacuees we should have to house. It came out all right in the end. We have with us now a very grateful woman, worried about the schooling of her children and the husband she has had to leave in the neighbourhood of aircraft factories and engineering works, and a delightful little girl of two. We have been supplied with a family.

As it has been all over the country. There have been very few exceptions to the rule that the children have been welcomed to their new homes, which all classes of the population in the reception area have shared in providing.

Some of the evacuees have been very fortunate, in particular the 70 to the King's estate at Balmoral, 30 of whom are housed in the Castle itself, and are therefore untroubled.

Air Raid Wipes Out Big Calgary Margin

GRAYS OUTPOINTS MESPORRAN IN TEN ROUNDS

Closing Rally Wins For Stylish Puncher

BY JACK DEAN

PUNCHING hard and often in the last two rounds as his better conditioning carried him through, Gordon Grayson outpointed Eddie Mesporran to take a close decision in 10 three-minute rounds at the Memorial Hall last night. Thus Grayson continued his march to the number one challenger's spot in middleweight ranks and a well earned crack at Louis "Kid" Dalke, the champion.

It was a grueling test. One which necessitated Grayson calling upon all his reserve stamina as he stopped a game and willing ex-champion. Only a few points. It was that close, gave Grayson the edge in a main event bout which, while not a masterpiece of miltmanship, was hard and well fought.

Mesporran tried his level best to make good in his second comeback bid. He carried the fight to his more favored foe. For eight rounds Eddie best his own. His bobbing, weaving style befuddled Grayson, but Eddie's long, hard punches, his short six weeks' training boomers, broke him on in the last two rounds as he tried badly.

PRESSED FIGHT

Mesporran stopped Grayson five rounds as he weighed in at 135 lbs. He opened up fast and showed that he could still hit with some fairly heavy artillery in his right hand. In the early rounds Eddie did more than hold his own. His aggressive pace as he worked right in on Grayson forced the latter to absorb some heavy punches, but in the middle more than once to the end.

But Grayson found his way out of trouble most of the time. He showed all, however, in the eighth round when he landed a right hander which Grayson could stand with light punishment, but the stylish boxer, who now has harder, crisper blows and more of them.

WAS TOO CLEVER

Grayson was too clever to be won over by Eddie's best blows. Many times Grayson forced Mesporran to miss on sharp highland punches. In the fourth round, Eddie clipped Grayson hard on the chin. Grayson felt that blow but he didn't let it get to him. He kept his feet and came back alive in the fifth.

Mesporran made his big bid in the sixth round as he heaped blows on Grayson but Gordon dived out of range of Eddie's heavy blows and came through unscathed.

They started the ninth heat pretty well even. It was then that Grayson opened up with his hard fighting in the eighth round. Grayson took the ninth by a wide margin. He also won the tenth, but by a slimmer margin as they quivered off and went at each other hammer and tongs.

EARNED THE NOB

Many fans would have voted a draw decision. But Grayson's great bid in the last two rounds could hardly be denied and the stylish miltman received the edge as he justly deserved after saving Mesporran's crushing style of fighting.

Joe Jamieson, fighting in a six-round semi-final, was the blonde bomber on the card. Jamieson dropped Billy Dempsey of Calgary, to the canvas in the eighth round. Several crushing right-hand blows to Dempsey's protruding chin put the Calgary out colder than the blood which flew through the coils of Dempsey.

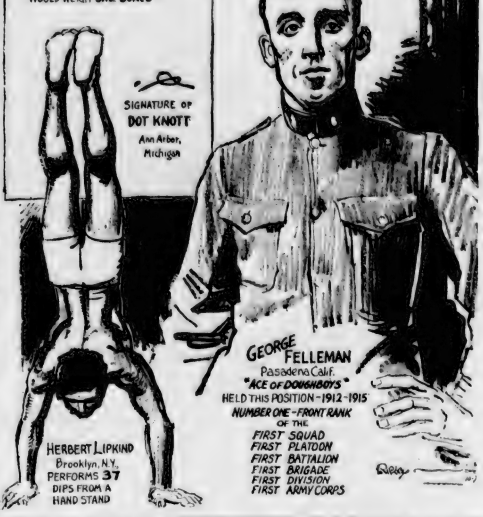

Jamieson floored Dempsey as early as the first round. Dempsey dropped for a count of eight. He was down again for a nine count and never got on his feet.

Vic Pollock and Jack Berry scored decisions in preliminary bouts. Pollock took a six-round decision against the frolicking but serious Don Burley in the spring of war while Berry stopped Paul Krause in a four-rounder.

While punching little Woodlawn twins, Eric and Malcolm, aged to three, three-round draw in their pet fight which opened the card. Leo Janjien was the winner of the

Britain's New Fighting Army Accepts Challenge

German new soldiers of England's army after carrying their baggage in a bus to various for an undisciplined army, equipped troops have modern artillerymen role in action in modern warfare of the British army rolling along a road in England prior to departing for the fighting line in France. As the army moves and air force against the odds to attack Germany are the order of the day in all parts of England and here a soldier stands left to off to join his mates on HMS Drake. Heavily armed modernized destruction, units of the new armored British army. (Lower right) are riding along English highways. Their ultimate destination will be France and the fighting line.

Rumania Strengthening Bessarabia-Soviet Frontier

Rumania has often boasted of its fine fighting men and here they are, left, fit and ready to defend their borders against all invaders. They may be called upon to do just that if current rumors, that the Soviet may take over Rumania and other Balkan states as part of the "splitting of Europe" between Stalin and Hitler, are true. To meet the threat of invasion from Russia, tanks and anti-aircraft guns, right, are now in a state of readiness on the Bessarabia border. Rumania acquired Bessarabia from Russia after the last war.

Capital of Threatened Baltic Republic

A view of Riga, seaport capital of the little republic of Latvia, over which hangs the ominous shadow of the Hammer and Sickle of Soviet Russia. Reports from reputable quarters hint that the Soviet has demanded use of Latvian ports for trade outlets and naval bases. Latvian Foreign Minister William Munters has been summoned to Moscow to confer with Soviet Premier Molotov. It is believed that Russia will propose a non-aggression pact for a starter, the procedure followed in the case of neighboring Estonia.

New Suez

Construction of a "second Suez" canal, an alternate link in the British chain of round-the-world defense, is reported to be approved by the British government, following the Anglo-French conference on Palestine in London. The route of the proposed canal, linking Haifa on the Mediterranean coast of Palestine to the Red Sea port of Aden, is shown on the map. The proposed canal would be of great value in the event of a blockade of the Suez during a possible future war in the Mediterranean.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

MANY OF OUR COMMON FOOD PRODUCTS WOULD NOT BE RECOGNIZED BY THE AVERAGE CONSUMER IF HE SAW THEM GROWING IN THEIR NATIVE HABITAT... LONG BEFORE THEY REACH THE GROCERY.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS GROW CLUSTERED AROUND A STALK.

BLACK PEPPER COMES FROM THE DRIED FRUIT OF A CLIMBING SHRUB OF TROPICAL COUNTRIES.

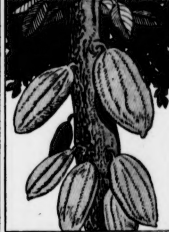

WHITE PEPPER COMES FROM THE SAME FRUIT, ONLY WITH THE OUTSIDE LAYER OF THE BERRIES REMOVED.

BRAZIL NUTS GROW ON TREES, PACKED INSIDE HARD, ROUND SHELLS.

COCOA IS MANUFACTURED FROM THE SEED OF THE CACAO TREE. THE SEEDS GROW IN CURIOUS PODS AROUND THE BRANCHES OF THE TREE.

CLOVES ARE THE DRIED, UNOPENED FLOWER BUDS OF A NATIVE TREE OF MOLUCCA.

VANILLA IS EXTRACTED FROM DRIED AND FERMENTED PODS OF SEVERAL SPECIES OF ORCHIDS.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Blosser

NO, FRECKLES YOUR FATHER ISN'T HOME YET. HE'S AT THE BARBER SHOP!

THAT'S ALL I WANTED TO KNOW!

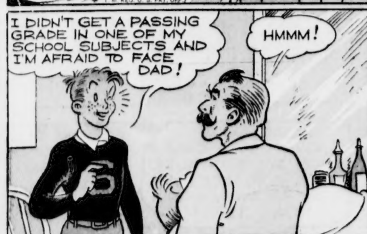

YOU'RE NEXT, FRECKLES!!

I DON'T NEED A HAIR-CUT, TONY.... I JUST CAME IN TO KILL TIME!

I'M AFRAID TO GO HOME!

WHY? WOT'S D'MATTER?

I DIDN'T GET A PASSING GRADE IN ONE OF MY SCHOOL SUBJECTS AND I'M AFRAID TO FACE DAD!

HMMM!

WOULD HE GIVVA YOU A WALLOP-ING?

MY FATHER IS TOO FINE FOR THAT SORT OF THING. HE HASN'T A MEAN STREAK IN HIM!

THEN WHY YOU 'FRAID TO GO HOME?

MY DAD IS SUCH A SENSITIVE PERSON IT WOULD HURT HIM DEEPLY IF HE THOUGHT I'D FAILED IN SOMETHING!

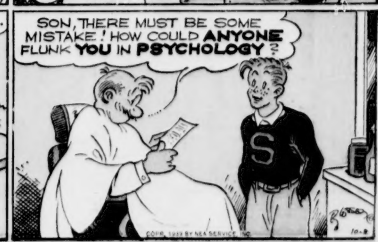

I DON'T LIKE TO DESTROY HIS FAITH IN ME AND....

HELLO, SON!

WHY, POP... IT'S YOU!!

LET ME SEE YOUR GRADES... I'D LIKE TO SEE WHAT SUBJECT YOU'RE WEAK IN!

SON, THERE MUST BE SOME MISTAKE! HOW COULD ANYONE FLUNK YOU IN PSYCHOLOGY?
